Students attended	50
Total Participants	51
The objectives and description of the activity	engage 2.0 aims to be a students' symposium where young minds come together to engage in a constructive discussion, to inspire and to enlighten one another in the field of gender studies. It is the first of its kind students' symposium to be held in the state of Goa where the symposium will be for the students, of the students and by the students. The symposium will be held with a twofold purpose in mind. The primary goal shall be to encourage students in the sphere of research in English literature in Goa. Additionally, since gender studies is an extremely relevant and an up and coming area in literature, it becomes a fertile ground to explore these contemporary issues. By aiding and encouraging the broadening mindsets in areas like gender, sexuality, gender politics, LGBTQ+ issues, it is a hope that this step shall be one of significance. The secondary goal is to ignite young minds to push them towards critical thinking and enriching goal oriented discussions. Young researchers need such platforms to consume

	ideas, share them and along with that sensitize them towards LGBTQ+ issues. eng.age 2.0 will provide such a platform for students to interact with others, share ideas and in turn polish their own. It is our hope that the symposium will inspire students to delve in the field of research and ignite their interest in the field of gender studies.

Benefit/Key outcome of the event in terms of learning/skills/knowledge	En-gender will dive into topics that impact the social, legal, political, cultural and literary fabric of communities. It will uncover trends, discuss urgent needs and provide unique perspectives surrounding gender studies. The symposium seeks to explore the past and current status of gender studies in academia, to examine the ways in which society is shaped by gender and to situate gender in relation to the full scope of human affairs.

THE WALLS OF LEARNING PROJECT

By Sociology Department from 13th-15th March 2023 at Velipwadda-Balli

The Department of Sociology of Parvatibai Chowgule College of Arts and Science Autonomous-Margao along with its faculty Dr. Sachin Savio Moraes (Head of the Department), Assistant Professors Ms. Siana D'Mello, Ms. Valeska Gracias and a total of 40 students chose the Anganwadi at Velipwadda-Balli for this Community Outreach Project from evening of 13th March to 15th March 2023 along with its annual course based experiential and field learning. This project is one of its kind by the UG students of general stream in the state of Goa.

Picture 1 and 2

The concept 'The walls of learning project' is based on a fact that a student's environment influences their learning. More specifically, the classroom environment influences literacy development. This is why learning walls are so crucial in education. Typical classrooms usually involve some informative posters, such as alphabets, vegetables etc or an inspirational quote. While these are great at conveying the theme of the class, they are not the best at promoting the facilitation of learning. The goal of a learning wall is to have "walls that teach".

Walls That Teach

Learning walls are visual classroom displays focused on the class's learning intentions. They are intended to facilitate the student's learning process and likewise evolve throughout the school year. The case of an Anganwadi school, which consist of children from the age of 3 to 5 years on a average focuses on children learning the basics i.e Alphabets, Numbers, Days of the week, Colours, Shapes, Swar, Months of the year and Magic Words This content was thought of based on the interaction with the teacher of the Anganwadi Ms.Mohini Velip, who was all supportive and encouraging to our idea.

The students along with the teachers of the college conceptualized and planned the whole project. The college tiger's studio members Mr. Presley Fernandes and Mr. Pranesh Desai collaborated and provided support and help . The secondary aim of the project was being able to serve the society especially underprivileged who lack the basic environment of learning.

Picture 3 to 10

The Process

The process involved fund generation with the help of the ex-students, students and teachers and lesioning with the stake holders for the necessary arrangements and finally execution of the same from the evening of 13th March to 15th March through the groups formed for designated work. A total of 40 students were divided in to 6 groups and undertook the makeover of the interior and exterior walls. The students and the teachers resided in the panchayat hall of Balli that was provided through the sarpanch Mr. Govind Dessai. The food arrangements were made through the self help group entrepreneur Mrs. Vandana Gaonkar

The walls of learning project' was inaugurated at the hands of the Anganwadi teacher Ms. Mohini Velip, Mukhya Sevika Mrs.Ekrupa Mahale, child student and a parent on the 15th March 2023. We hope that many more teachers from other colleges with their students could replicate the same.

The objectives and description of the activity	engage 2.0 aims to be a students' symposium where young minds come together to engage in a constructive discussion, to inspire and to enlighten one another in the field of gender studies. It is the first of its kind students' symposium to be held in the state of Goa where the symposium will be for the students, of the students and by the students. The symposium will be held with a twofold purpose in mind. The primary goal shall be to encourage students in the sphere of research in English literature in Goa. Additionally, since gender studies is an extremely relevant and an up and coming area in literature, it becomes a fertile ground to explore these contemporary issues. By aiding and encouraging the broadening mindsets in areas like gender, sexuality, gender politics, LGBTQ+ issues, it is a hope that this step shall be one of significance. The secondary goal is to ignite young minds to push them towards critical thinking and enriching goal oriented discussions. Young researchers need such platforms to consume

	ideas, share them and along with that sensitize them towards LGBTQ+ issues. eng.age 2.0 will provide such a platform for students to interact with others, share ideas and in turn polish their own. It is our hope that the symposium will inspire students to delve in the field of research and ignite their interest in the field of gender studies.

Benefit/Key outcome of the event in terms of learning/skills/knowledge	En-gender will dive into topics that impact the social, legal, political, cultural and literary fabric of communities. It will uncover trends, discuss urgent needs and provide unique perspectives surrounding gender studies. The symposium seeks to explore the past and current status of gender studies in academia, to examine the ways in which society is shaped by gender and to situate gender in relation to the full scope of human affairs.

National Voters Day is celebrated on 25 January every year. On National Voters Day, people across India celebrate their right to vote by celebrating democracy, exercising their civic duty, and participating in the democratic process. National Voters Day reflects the importance of voting. People should take the time to recognise that when they vote in an election, they are bringing a difference.

National Voters Day encourages voters to use their voices at the polls and make their votes count. Voting is a constitutional right. People may choose to vote for someone who could bring changes to their lives. Voting helps shape the world, community and country we live in. It is important to cast a ballot because our voice can help bring changes.

Every vote is crucial during the election, and citizens can make a difference in the country by voting. It is one of the only ways we, the people, can have power over what happens next. Many Indians are unaware of the importance of voting. The only way to influence laws and policies is through the poll, which positively impacts the lives of the people.

Voting is important because it changes the world. Candidates need to show up and vote to elect their leaders to rule the country. If no one votes, voters may never get the candidate they want, leading to many issues like inflation and a poor economy.

Every vote counts, and we must remember that our vote is our voice. We need to exercise our right to vote in this day and age, sometimes more than ever. It is the only way all voices can be heard, and voting is democracy in action. If your goal is to change or improve society, voting should always be at the top of your list.

By observing the factors and incidents happening in the world, it is easy to understand that voting is more important than ever before. Voting is a constitutional right that should be utilised. It gives everyone a chance to express opinions and hold the government accountable for their actions and policies. The citizens must vote in every election.

Voting is a great way to reflect people's opinions and demand the changes they need in the country. If you vote, you will feel like you are doing something that will positively affect society. Hence, voting is a necessary action that can affect the people, society and the country.

Essay

Prevention of Discrimination Against Women And Elimination of Violence Against Women

Gender discrimination is the difference in treatment of a person based on sex that puts the individual at a disadvantage or limits his or her access to opportunities that are available to other members of society. Gender discrimination is a characteristic of most societies, with males on average better positioned in social, economic, and political hierarchies. For more than two decades, gender discrimination continues and still exists in society. The work done by women is not valued and does not get any recognition. It is considered that the main responsibility of women is to do household work and bring up the children. In most families, women do all work related to the home, such as cleaning, cooking, washing clothes, ironing, tailoring, looking after children, etc. Whereas, men go to the office and do outdoor work to earn their livelihood. Although women constitute half of humanity, their role in public life is minimal in most societies.

The primary cause of gender discrimination is illiteracy. People who are not educated continue to follow the old practices in the name of traditions and culture. They are not allowing women to go outside the home and become independent. This mindset of the people can be changed by educating them. Apart from educating the people, there is a need to educate girls and women to become aware of their rights. Girls are not given the opportunity to study. In India, there are few girls who go to schools, and among them, there are fewer who complete their secondary education. Only a few of them get the opportunity for higher education and graduation. Due to a lack of knowledge and education qualifications, girls and women could not find suitable jobs for themselves.

Because of this they have to be financially dependent on the male partner for money. They also don't have power and decision-making capability in their homes. Whatever is decided by the male members of the family, they have to follow that. Women who get the chance to work are underpaid, and they do not get a salary equal to their male counterparts. India is a male-dominated, patriarchal society. So, it becomes crucial that we make special laws and rules that favour women, so they get equal treatment in society. The Government of India introduced various programmes, policies and practices to ensure equal rights and opportunities for women in family, community, workplace and in governance. The Constitution of India also conveys a powerful mandate for equality and the right of women in its preambles, fundamental rights and duties. After so much effort by the government, gender discrimination still continues in many places. It is the responsibility of each citizen to stop gender discrimination wherever they notice it. We should save the girl child and celebrate its birth. Then only the practice of female foeticide will be completely banned in India. We must educate her and teach her to become independent. We should make the environment and surroundings safe for girls and women, whether it is a public place or a workplace. Now, women are seen in every field and sector. They are working as scientists, doctors, engineers, lawyers, managers, college and university teachers, and in various other professions which were earlier not considered suitable for women. So, it's our responsibility to boost their confidence and help them utilise their full potential. We should provide special facilities such as maternity, child care and menstrual leave to make it easier for them to work.

Prevention is the only way to stop violence before it even occurs. It requires political commitment, implementing laws that promote gender equality, investing in women's organizations, and addressing the multiple forms of discrimination women face daily. The evidence about prevention has evolved considerably over the past decade, including as a result of various initiatives supported by UN Women. UN Women has played a key role in developing evidence-based policy and programming guidance on prevention of violence against women and girls. As part of its prevention strategy, UN Women focuses on early education, respectful relationships, and working with men and boys, especially through, and in, the media, sports industries, and the world of work. UN Women helps conduct research on attitudes, perceptions, and behaviours of men and boys, as well as young people, related to various forms of violence, and supports advocacy, awareness-raising, community mobilization, and educational programmes, as well as legal and policy reforms. In Asia and the Pacific, for example, UN Women works with other UN agencies on the Partners for Prevention programme that aims to reduce the prevalence of gender-based violence in the region through behaviour and attitudinal change among boys and men, as well as increased institutional capacity and policy enhancements. In partnership with the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, and with inputs from young people, UN Women has also designed a curriculum—Voices Against Violence—for those aged 5–25 years. The curriculum includes tools to help young people understand the root causes of violence in their communities, and to help educate and involve their peers and communities in preventing violence against women and girls.

VISIT OF NAVAL PERSONNEL FOR INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

Dear Sir/ Madam

1. As part of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav celebrations, Goa Naval Area is conducting an awareness drive regarding Indian Navy among the youth and students of Goa to talk on career prospects in the Navy including Agnipath scheme of Armed Forces.
2. Indian Navy offers an excellent career option for students in terms of job satisfaction and financial security. By joining services one chooses more than a job. Indian Navy offers an unique way of exploring life and provides ample opportunity to explore ones potential in every sphere of life.
3. A team of Naval personnel would like to visit your esteemed school/ college/ ITI and give a brief presentation on the opportunities available with them for joining Indian Navy and conduct an interactive session with the students. This visit would offer them an excellent opportunity to closely interact with Naval personnel and seek various clarifications on the career options including Agnipath scheme and life in the Indian Navy.
4. If the above proposal is accepted, we request you to kindly propose a date in the period from 04 Jul 22 to 10 Aug 22 for the interaction. Subsequently, we will revert back to confirm the date proposed by you or request change in dates prior finalising our itinerary. An early response would be highly appreciated as it would help us to make necessary administrative arrangements. We would also request you to provide us with a Public Address system (mike with speakers etc) and projector with screen. Also intimate us the contact name, mobile number/ email details of the person coordinating the visit from your side.

VISIT OF NAVAL PERSONNEL FOR INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

Dear Sir/ Madam

1. As part of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav celebrations, Goa Naval Area is conducting an awareness drive regarding Indian Navy among the youth and students of Goa to talk on career prospects in the Navy including Agnipath scheme of Armed Forces.
2. Indian Navy offers an excellent career option for students in terms of job satisfaction and financial security. By joining services one chooses more than a job. Indian Navy offers an unique way of exploring life and provides ample opportunity to explore ones potential in every sphere of life.
3. A team of Naval personnel would like to visit your esteemed school/ college/ ITI and give a brief presentation on the opportunities available with them for joining Indian Navy and conduct an interactive session with the students. This visit would offer them an excellent opportunity to closely interact with Naval personnel and seek various clarifications on the career options including Agnipath scheme and life in the Indian Navy.
4. If the above proposal is accepted, we request you to kindly propose a date in the period from 04 Jul 22 to 10 Aug 22 for the interaction. Subsequently, we will revert back to confirm the date proposed by you or request change in dates prior finalising our itinerary. An early response would be highly appreciated as it would help us to make necessary administrative arrangements. We would also request you to provide us with a Public Address system (mike with speakers etc) and projector with screen. Also intimate us the contact name, mobile number/ email details of the person coordinating the visit from your side.

Target Market

The flesh and excitement of impending nuptials can be intoxicating. It can also be overwhelming. Therefore, we primarily market our services to the people who need them most brides and grooms. In 2019, 4000 marriages took place in the Mumbai.

This marriage rate is expected to remain at the same level in the near future. In the Mumbai, where Forever Bond Wedding Consultants plans to operate their business uncountable number of marriages are registered each year, which creates a sizable market potential for this line of business.

Another customer segment is represented by the numerous family members and guests attending weddings, anniversaries, and similar events. This segment requires event preparation services like gift ideas, etiquette tips, etc.

Besides the wedding arrangements, which Forever Bond Wedding Consultants believe to be their major client assignments, other events the company will provide services to include corporate retreats, etiquette trainings etc. This customer segment is estimated to have the annual volume of 6000 orders in Mumbai.

Social Media Marketing

- Follow the three E's rule of posting
- Educate – inform your followers with content to educate them on topics relevant to your industry
- Entertain – show your business' culture with content they'll enjoy and also be able to relate/learn about your business
- Engage – always respond to messages, comments, and questions, but don't stop there. Create polls, surveys, and questions for your followers to engage with frequently.
