The objectives and description of the activity	eng.age 2.0 aims to be a students' symposium where young minds come together to engage in a constructive discussion, to inspire and to enlighten one another in the field of gender studies. It is the first of its kind students' symposium to be held in the state of Goa where the symposium will be for the students, of the students and by the students. The symposium will be held with a twofold purpose in mind. The primary goal shall be to encourage students in the sphere of research in English literature in Goa. Additionally, since gender studies is an extremely relevant and an up and coming area in literature, it becomes a fertile ground to explore these contemporary issues. By aiding and encouraging the broadening mindsets in areas like gender, sexuality, gender politics, LGBTQ+ issues, it is a hope that this step shall be one of significance. The secondary goal is to ignite young minds to push them towards critical thinking and enriching goal oriented discussions. Young researchers need such platforms to consume

	ideas, share them and along with that sensitize them towards LGBTQ+ issues. eng.age 2.0 will provide such a platform for students to interact with others, share ideas and in turn polish their own. It is our hope that the symposium will inspire students to delve in the field of research and ignite their interest in the field of gender studies.

Benefit/Key outcome of the event in terms of learning/skills/knowledge	En-gender will dive into topics that impact the social, legal, political, cultural and literary fabric of communities. It will uncover trends, discuss urgent needs and provide unique perspectives surrounding gender studies. The symposium seeks to explore the past and current status of gender studies in academia, to examine the ways in which society is shaped by gender and to situate gender in relation to the full scope of human affairs.
