The objectives and description of the activity	A series of sessions were conducted across the First Year classes to create awareness and to sensitize them on how to behave while interacting with individuals coming from various cultures and backgrounds, in order to maintain peace in our society. The talk commenced with an introduction to the topic and its relevance in today's India. The resource person elaborated upon the definition of culture. She mentioned that our cultural ideas and beliefs are very personal to us and as a result we hold it with high regard. In some situations, when we encounter people with different traditional backgrounds, sharing different ideas, we might feel defensive and uncomfortable. In these rare situations, one must make sure his/her actions and behaviors are not hurtful or damaging in any way.

	Keeping this thought in mind, the students were equipped with a number of skills in which one could act in a way that conflict would be reduced or avoided. This includes, engaging in healthy communication, establishing clear boundaries, expressing empathy and respect towards one another, avoiding unnecessary sensitive topics that are bound to end up in conflict. The participants were also introduced to the notion of ‘Agree to Disagree’. The session came to an end with clearing of any queries.
Feedback	The students were interactive and did have many ideas to share. However, it was noticed that a deeper, elaborate and more informative discussion among the students would have left an everlasting impact.
Benefit/Key outcome of the event in terms of learning/skills/knowledge	The participants were well-informed about the changing social dynamics and the vast variety of existing cultures and ethnic groups among our Indian culture. They were sensitized on how to interact with each other respectfully so as to maintain harmony and unity.
