The screenshot shows the Mentimeter welcome page in a browser window. The URL is <https://www.mentimeter.com/welcome>. The page features the Mentimeter logo at the top center, followed by the heading "Welcome to Mentimeter" and a sub-heading: "Mentimeter lets you create interactive presentations to engage your audience with every slide. Our aim is to make you shine on stage!". Below this, a prompt asks the user to select their primary use case: "Please let us know what you'd like to use Mentimeter for." There are seven radio button options: "Workshops", "Events (10-50 people)", "Training sessions", "Education", "Meetings or team management", "Conferences or large events", and "Other". A blue "Get Started" button is positioned at the bottom of the selection area. A "Skip" link with a right-pointing arrow is located in the top right corner. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar and various application icons, with the system tray displaying the time as 18:20 on 24-11-2020.

Remember the code, or download the bar code and share it with the ones who are supposed to answer the QUIZ

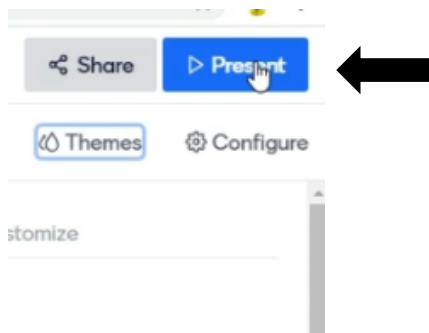

The screenshot shows the Menti quiz editor interface. The main slide displays the question "What is the capital city of India" with three options: New Delhi, Mumbai, and Pune. A black arrow points to the top of the slide area. The right-hand panel shows the "Content" tab with fields for "Your question" (containing "What is the capital city of India") and "Options" (with "New Delhi" selected). The bottom of the interface shows a Windows taskbar with the search bar and system tray.

The screenshot shows the "Share" dialog box in Menti. It has two tabs: "Participation" and "Presentation sharing". Under "Participation", there are sections for "Audience access" (with an "Expand" link), "Voting code" (displaying "40 21 91 0" and an "Expand" link), and "Voting link" (displaying "https://www.menti.com/8yhfuagyfy" and a "Copy link" button). Under "Presentation sharing", there is a "QR Code" section with a QR code and a "Download" button. A large black arrow points to the "Download" button.

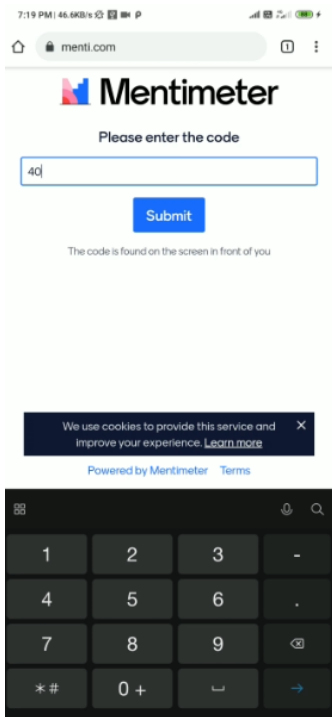

Click on “Themes” to change the theme of the presentation and make it more attractive

To start presenting the quiz, click on “Present”

Go to Menti.com on different device and type in the same quiz code to enter the quiz mode

Answer the quiz, and get points accordingly
